

IMPROVED PRODUCTIVITY

LHI Leasing GmbH is one of the leading suppliers of highly individualized structured finance solutions. When the decision was made to modernise the Enterprise Content Management System so that it could meet these high standards, the IBM FileNet P8 Content Manager was chosen as the Document Management System and the CENIT software solution ECLISO as client application. In the past, LHI used FileNet Panagon Content Services and Image Services for the purpose of a storage facility and an individually created client application for access to electronic documents.

Thanks to ECLISO, the company employees can now call up all relevant process documents quicker. CENIT ECLISO Optimises Document Management at LHI Leasing than ever before. Even in combination with the ERP system. Claus Bressnik, project manager at LHI, emphasises: „Thanks to the comprehensive range of structured search and display functions, we can in future save the valuable time our knowledge workers needed for time-consuming searches in the past, and use this time to concentrate on working on the documents instead“. And Thomas Büsch, in charge of IT & Business Processes at LHI, adds: „A crucial factor in our decision to use ECLISO was also the userfriendliness of the product, which works with well-known Office application functions and has a freely configurable user interface“.

CENIT ECLISO adds various new functions such as case and file processing as well as an inbox to IBM FileNet P8. ECLISO has recently become available as a user-friendly desktop application based on the eclipse rich client platform. While LHI Leasing uses standard functions such as the check-in and check-out of documents, it also makes use of the multi-faceted search and display functions. In this way, ECLISO allows the employees to display all documents for any business procedure at the click of a button.

LHI Leasing manages assets of about 30 billion EUR (real estate, movables and intangible) in more than 1800 property companies. As a result, the company's documentation and archiving requirements are extremely complex.

“A crucial factor in our decision to use CENIT ECLISO was the userfriendliness of the product.”
